

Broken Promises

Don't Make Promise
You know that you can't keep
Cause your Broken Promises
Made my faith in you weak

Verse 1

it was about 3 years ago
When I first met you you treated me with respect and made me happy to But after all the heartaches you put me through I keep thinking about leaving you cause I can't put up with your broken promises no more So I'm packing my bags and headed for the door Cause I gave you a second chance but you broke your promises over and over again
So,

Chorus

Don't Make Promises
You know that you can't keep
Cause your Broken Promises
Made my faith in you weak
now I see, you've got no honesty
That's why I'm leaving, and you're losing me

Verse 2

I was so naive to your act cause I thought we were so alike Your promises were empty cause you never planned to do right you promised I wouldn't be alone But your gone every night you promised to treat me right but every day we seem to fight and I gave everything, you gave false hope and empty dreams You should have been true to your word and said things you didn't mean cause the promises you made never came true baby that's why I'm leaving and we're forever though
So

Chorus

Don't Make Promise
You know that you can't keep
Cause your Broken Promises
Made my faith in you weak
now I see, you got no honesty
That's why I'm leaving, and you're losing me

Verse 3

You betrayed my trust and treated me like a fool you made promises then deny it was true you played so many games and my family warned me of you But I brushed it off thinking everything would be cool but, now I know what they said was really true At first I was blinded but now I see it too My eyes are open and I'm telling you we're though
So boy here's my final words to you

Chorus

made my faith in you weak
now I see you've got no honesty
That's why I'm leaving, and you're losing me

Bridge

You're no good and I'm telling you the truth
If you can't keep your word then what good are you You're not dependable cause you say things you don't do
And that's what matter
So goodbye I'm leaving you!

Chorus

Don't Make Promises
you know that you can't keep
Cause your Broken Promises
made my faith in you weak
So now I see, you got no honesty
That's why I'm leaving, and you're losing me
