

New Beginnings – Elishema

I realize the hatred I held inside was pulling me back from a better life

So I'm learning to forgive but I'll never forget nothing and I am moving on with more experience

and if any body else get a second chance then so do I

I wanna get on with life and leave anger behind, I am much wiser now

It's a way I'll start

all over again and bring resentment to an end

I ain't holding nothing in

My new beginning

From this day forward

I'll be pleasant to those who caused me pain and I thank them all for the lessons that I gained but I could never ever trust them again cause in my mind I'll remember their not worthy of being my friend uh oh oh

all over again and bring resentment to an end

I ain't holding nothing in

My new beginning

I control my destiny and I'll write my own life's story no more will they ever spoil that for me

Cause I'm stronger now, to face my past rivalries and never again will they have that power over me

all over again and bring resentment to an end

My new beginning

(my new beginning)

They thought they won but I'm starting over this is my new beginning
